PAYING FOR COLLEGE: GRANTS, LOANS, AND OTHER FINANCIAL AID SOURCES

Finding financial aid can seem overwhelming when you’re trying to get ready for college or career school. The U.S. Department of Education’s Office of Federal Student Aid is here to help you get the money you need to pay for your education.

PREPARATION

Scholarships and state aid can help cover the cost of college or career school, but you may find yourself in need of federal assistance.

2. Scholarships – Look for scholarships through your state or college as well as national and community organizations.
3. State Aid – Many states have college funding programs. Ask a guidance counselor or your college financial aid office for more information.

It’s time to apply for financial aid.

FAFSA

• The FAFSA is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid and is the only way to apply for federal student aid. Many Universities, Colleges and Trade Schools REQUIRE you to fill out the FASFA in order to be eligible to apply. The schools you list on your application will use FAFSA information to evaluate your financial need and determine how much federal aid you are eligible to receive. Many states and colleges also use information from your FAFSA to provide their own financial aid.

• Each October 1st, the FAFSA is available for the upcoming school year. It is best to fill it out as early as you can because some aid is first come, first served.

• When you complete the FAFSA, you’ll need to provide personal and tax information. If you’ve filed your taxes already, you may be able to automatically retrieve the information from the IRS. If you haven’t, just estimate your tax information and update it later.

• Complete the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.gov. Make sure to fill out and submit the FAFSA each year you are in college. There is NEVER a fee to fill the FASFA out online, do not pay for FASFA serves or companies that advertise that they can help you get FASFA money. The only legal and true way to get FASFA money is to apply directly to them.

• After you submit your FAFSA, you’ll receive your Student Aid Report (SAR). Your SAR summarizes the information on your FAFSA. Review it and make corrections if needed.

• Your FAFSA helps your school determine the types of federal student aid you are eligible to receive.
TYPES OF FEDERAL STUDENT AID

As the largest provider of financial aid, the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Federal Student Aid provides grants, loans, and work-study funds.

Grants: Grants are free money that does not have to be repaid.

Loans: Student loans are real loans (like a car or home loan) that need to be repaid with interest. Be sure to look for payback dates and rates if you are planning to secure funding in through this method.

Work-Study: A work-study job gives you the opportunity to earn money to help pay your educational expenses.

GRANTS

The U.S. Department of Education offers a variety of federal grants to students attending four-year colleges or universities, community colleges, and career schools.

- Federal Pell Grants
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG)
- Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grants
- Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grants

FEDERAL PELL GRANT PROGRAM

To get a Pell grant, you must complete the...
- Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

Quick information on Pell grants:

- A Federal Pell Grant, unlike a loan, does not have to be repaid.
- The maximum Pell grant for the 2019–20 award year (July 1, 2019, to June 30, 2020) is $6,195.00 dollars.
- The amount depends on your financial need, costs to attend school, status as a full-time or part-time student, and plans to attend school for a full academic year or less.

Program Description

- The Federal Pell Grant Program provides need-based grants to low-income undergraduate and certain post-baccalaureate students to promote access to postsecondary education. Students may use their grants at any one of approximately 5,400 participating postsecondary institutions. Grant amounts are dependent on: the student's expected family contribution (EFC) (see below); the cost of attendance (as determined by the institution); the student's enrollment status (full-time or part-time); and whether the student attends for a full academic year or less.

Students may not receive Federal Pell Grant funds from more than one school at a time.

- Financial need is determined by the U.S. Department of Education using a standard formula, established by Congress, to evaluate the financial information reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and to determine the family EFC. The fundamental elements in this standard formula are the student's income (and assets if the student is independent), the parents’ income and assets (if the student is dependent), the family’s household size, and the number of family members (excluding parents) attending postsecondary institutions. The EFC is the sum of: (1) a percentage of net income (remaining income after subtracting allowances for basic living expenses and taxes) and (2) a percentage of net assets (assets remaining after subtracting an asset protection allowance). Different assessment rates and allowances are used for dependent students, independent students without dependents, and independent students with dependents. After filing a FAFSA, the student receives a Student Aid Report (SAR), or the institution receives an Institutional Student Information Record (ISIR), which notifies the student if he or she is eligible for a Federal Pell Grant and provides the student’s EFC.

- Federal Pell Grants are direct grants awarded through participating institutions to students with financial need who have not received their first bachelor’s degree or who are enrolled in certain postbaccalaureate programs that lead to teacher certification or licensure. Participating institutions either credit the Federal Pell Grant funds to the student’s school account, pay the student directly (usually by check) or combine these methods. Students must be paid at least once per term (semester, trimester, or quarter); schools that do not use formally defined terms must pay the student at least twice per academic year.

FEDERAL SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANT (FSEOG) PROGRAM

- The FSEOG Program provides need-based grants to help low-income undergraduate students finance the costs of postsecondary education. Students can receive these grants at any one of approximately 3,800 participating postsecondary institutions. When making FSEOG awards, the institution must give priority to those students with “exceptional need” (those with the lowest Expected Family Contributions, or EFCs, at the institution) and those who are also Federal Pell Grant recipients (see # 84.063, also under topical heading Federal Student Aid).

- A participating institution applies each year for an FSEOG allocation by submitting a Fiscal Operations Report and Application to Participate (FISAP) to the U.S. Department of Education. Using a statutory formula, the Department allocates funds based on the institution’s previous funding level and the aggregate need of eligible students in attendance in the prior year. Institutions must contribute 25 percent of the award amounts.

- Students must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as part of the application process for an FSEOG. The FAFSA can be completed on the Web at http://www.fafsa.ed.gov. For more information on FAFSA and the student aid award process, see the entry for the Federal Pell Grant Program (# 84.063, also under topical heading Federal Student Aid).
TEACHER EDUCATION ASSISTANCE FOR COLLEGE AND HIGHER EDUCATION (TEACH) GRANTS

A Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant is different from other federal student grants because it requires you to take certain kinds of classes in order to get the grant, and then do a certain kind of job to keep the grant from turning into a loan.

• The TEACH Grant Program provides grants of up to $3,794 a year to students who are completing or plan to complete coursework needed to begin a career in teaching.

• Due to sequestration, award amounts for any TEACH Grant that is first disbursed on or after Oct. 1, 2019, and before Oct. 1, 2020, must be reduced by 5.9 percent from the award amount for which a recipient would otherwise have been entitled. Any TEACH Grant that is first disbursed on or after Oct. 1, 2019, and before Oct. 1, 2020, must be reduced by 5.9 percent. For example:
• For any 2019–20 TEACH Grant first disbursed on or after Oct. 1, 2019, and before Oct. 1, 2020, the maximum award of $3,794 is reduced by 5.9 percent ($59), resulting in a maximum award of $3,735.

• As a condition for receiving a TEACH Grant, you must sign a TEACH Grant Agreement to Serve in which you agree to (among other requirements) teach in a high-need field or at an elementary school, secondary school, or educational service agency that serves students from low-income families for at least four complete academic years within eight years after completing (or ceasing enrollment in) the course of study for which you received the grant.

IMPORTANT: If you do not complete your service obligation, all TEACH Grant funds you received will be converted to a Direct Unsubsidized Loan. You must then repay this loan to the U.S. Department of Education, with interest charged from the date the TEACH Grant was disbursed (paid to you or on your behalf).

IRAQ AND AFGHANISTAN SERVICE GRANT

Like other federal grants, Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grants provide money to college or career school students to help pay their education expenses. However, Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grants have special eligibility criteria. You may be eligible to receive the Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant if you are not eligible for a Federal Pell Grant on the basis of your Expected Family Contribution but meet the remaining Federal Pell Grant eligibility requirements, and your parent or guardian was a member of the U.S. armed forces and died as a result of military service performed in Iraq or Afghanistan after the events of 9/11, and you were under 24 years old or enrolled in college at least part-time at the time of your parent’s or guardian’s death.

LOANS

If you apply for financial aid, you may be offered loans as part of your school’s financial aid offer. A loan is money you borrow and must pay back with interest.

If you decide to take out a loan, make sure you understand who is making the loan and the terms and conditions of the loan. Student loans can come from the federal government or from private sources such as a bank or financial institution. Loans made by the federal government, called federal student loans, usually offer borrowers lower interest rates and have more flexible repayment options than loans from banks or other private sources.

The U.S. Department of Education has two federal student loan programs:

- The William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan (Direct Loan) Program is the largest federal student loan program. Under this program, the U.S. Department of Education is your lender. There are four types of Direct Loans available:

  - Direct Subsidized Loans are loans made to eligible undergraduate students who demonstrate financial need to help cover the costs of higher education at a college or career school.
  - Direct Unsubsidized Loans are loans made to eligible undergraduate, graduate, and professional students, but in this case, the student does not have to demonstrate financial need to be eligible for the loan.
  - Direct PLUS Loans are loans made to graduate or professional students and parents of dependent undergraduate students to help pay for education expenses not covered by other financial aid.
  - Direct Consolidation Loans allow you to combine all of your eligible federal student loans into a single loan with a single loan servicer.

- The Federal Perkins Loan Program is a school-based loan program for undergraduates and graduate students with exceptional financial need. Under this program, the school is lender.

FEDERAL PERKINS LOAN PROGRAM

- The Federal Perkins Loan Program provides low interest loans to help needy students finance the costs of postsecondary education. Students attending any one of approximately 1,700 participating postsecondary institutions can obtain Perkins loans from the school.

- The school’s revolving Perkins loan fund is replenished by ongoing activities, such as collections by the school on outstanding Perkins loans made by the school and reimbursements from the Department for the cost of certain statutory loan cancellation provisions.

- Students must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as part of the application process for a Perkins Loan. The FAFSA can be completed on the Web at http://www.fafsa.ed.gov. For more information on the student aid award process, see the Federal Pell Grant Program (# 84.063, also under topical heading Federal Student Aid).

- Students also will need to complete a Perkins promissory note in order to receive a loan.

- Perkins borrowers are eligible for loan cancellation for teacher service at low-income schools and under certain other circumstances specified in the law (HEA). Students may defer repayment of the loan while enrolled (at least half-time) at a postsecondary school. A borrower who has difficulty repaying a Perkins Loan should contact the school where he or she received the loan to find out if he or she is eligible for a deferment or forbearance based on economic hardship or other circumstances.

DIRECT LOANS

• Subsidized and unsubsidized loans are federal student loans for eligible students to help cover the cost of higher education at a four-year college or university, community college, or trade, career, or technical school. The U.S. Department of Education offers eligible students at participating schools Direct Subsidized Loans and Direct Unsubsidized Loans. (Some people refer to these loans as Stafford Loans or Direct Stafford Loans.)

• To receive either type of loan, you must be enrolled at least half-time at a school that participates in the Direct Loan Program. Generally, you must also be enrolled in a program that leads to a degree or certificate awarded by the school.

DIRECT SUBSIDIZED LOANS

• Have slightly better terms to help out students with financial need Direct Subsidized Loans are available to undergraduate students with financial need.

• Your school determines the amount you can borrow, and the amount may not exceed your financial need.

• The U.S. Department of Education pays the interest on a Direct Subsidized Loan

  • while you’re in school at least half-time,

  • for the first six months after you leave school (referred to as a grace period*), and

  • during a period of deferment (a postponement of loan payments).

*Note: If you received a Direct Subsidized Loan that was first disbursed between July 1, 2012, and July 1, 2014, you will be responsible for paying any interest that accrues during your grace period. If you choose not to pay the interest that accrues during your grace period, the interest will be added to your principal balance.

DIRECT UNSUBSIDIZED LOANS

• Direct Unsubsidized Loans are available to undergraduate and graduate students; there is no requirement to demonstrate financial need.

• Your school determines the amount you can borrow based on your cost of attendance and other financial aid you receive.

• You are responsible for paying the interest on a Direct Unsubsidized Loan during all periods.

• If you choose not to pay the interest while you are in school and during grace periods and deferment or forbearance periods, your interest will accrue (accumulate) and be capitalized (that is, your interest will be added to the principal amount of your loan).
DIRECT PLUS LOANS
PLUS loans are federal loans that graduate or professional degree students and parents of dependent undergraduate students can use to help pay education expenses. The U.S. Department of Education makes Direct PLUS Loans to eligible borrowers through schools participating in the Direct Loan Program.

Here’s a quick overview of Direct PLUS Loans:
• The U.S. Department of Education is the lender.
• The borrower must not have an adverse credit history.

The maximum loan amount is the student’s cost of attendance (determined by the school) minus any other financial aid received.

DIRECT CONSOLIDATION LOANS
• A Direct Consolidation Loan allows you to consolidate (combine) multiple federal education loans into one loan. The result is a single monthly payment instead of multiple payments.

Your UWF financial aid package will be made up of a combination of awards depending on your academic standing and your financial need. Awards including scholarships, grants, loans, and federal work-study opportunities are all part of what makes a UWF education affordable.

Several scholarships will also require the results of the FAFSA to be eligible. The vast majority of scholarships are awarded to students entering during the fall semester; however, scholarships are available for spring term entrants on a limited basis. Some scholarships are renewable, and others are one-time awards.

Scholarship Consideration: To be considered for any award, first-year students should be admitted prior to December 1. For those scholarships that consider financial need, please submit your FAFSA by March 1.

Renewal Criteria: Generally, a 3.0 cumulative UWF GPA is required for renewal. If there is a higher minimum standard and/or credit hour requirement, it will be included in the award notification. Renewable UWF scholarships require continuous, full-time enrollment (excluding summer) at UWF. Students must remain in good academic standing. Once lost due to academics, a scholarship will not be reinstated if GPA improves.

For a list of scholarships, visit http://uwf.edu/admissions/undergraduate/cost-financial-aid/awards-scholarships/freshmen-scholarships/

Need-Based Mississippi College Grants: On top of your academic award, you also could be eligible to receive additional scholarships based on your Estimated Family Contribution (EFC). This is determined by the FAFSA. Even if you do not qualify for anything other than loans through the FAFSA, we use a different formula that awards the majority of student’s additional scholarship amounts in what we call MC Grants. This can increase your award substantially. To find out what you may qualify for, take a few minutes to complete our Net Price Calculator. This is an abbreviated, unofficial version of the FAFSA that should give you a good idea of what to expect in institutional scholarships and financial aid. If you have been accepted, you will receive a conditional scholarship offer based upon this NPC information. In order to officially receive the MC Grant, you must submit a FAFSA and your actual award will be based on this information. FAFSAs may be submitted by October 1.

Stackables: MC offers a variety of other scholarships for students who meet certain criteria. We call these “stackable” scholarships, as they will stack on top of your current award.

There is a $2,000 cap on all stackable scholarships above the Academic and MC Grant awards. Stackable scholarship funds are limited and will be awarded on a first-come, first-served basis.

Alumni Dependent Scholarship: $500 per year for students who are financially dependent upon a Mississippi College alumnus.

Sibling Scholarship: $500 per year for students who had a sibling who is either a current or former MC student.

Loyola offers competitive merit-based scholarships. Scholarships are based on cumulative grade point average (GPA) and standardized testing scores. All applicants will be considered and there is no separate scholarship application. Scholarships are awarded at the time of acceptance.

Institutional Merit-Based Scholarship: Merit Scholarships range from $11,000 to $23,000 for qualified applicants. Students generally must have at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA* and a 21 ACT or a 1000 SAT to qualify. While applicants whose credentials fall below this range are not automatically considered for merit-based scholarships, they will be considered individually for other institutional awards. All applicants, regardless of qualification should submit the FAFSA so they may be considered for Loyola grants as well as federal need-based aid.

Ignatian Scholarship for Academic Excellence: Ignatian Scholars receive a full-tuition scholarship and on-campus housing allowance, in addition to automatic admission into our Honors Program. Scholars must also fulfill specialized service requirements as part of this cohort of engaged, invested and motivated individuals. The selection of Ignatian Scholars is a multi-step process including an interview with a member of the Loyola community. The interview will consist of questions related to personal experiences, academic plans, and future goals, as well as exploring a student’s interests in service, leadership and social justice. We encourage applicants to submit supplemental resumes, personal statements and/or activity listings to highlight their community involvement, demonstrated leadership and history of service throughout high school. If selected to interview for the Ignatian scholarship, students will be contacted directly by their admissions counselor. Applicants with a minimum cumulative *3.5 GPA on a 4-point scale in academic subjects combined with a minimum 29 ACT composite or minimum 1300 SAT combined score may qualify for consideration. The deadline to be considered for the Ignatian Scholarship is February 1. Interviews will take place between Feb. 4th - 20th. Award notifications will be sent in early March.

Grade Point Average for First-Year Applicants: Loyola considers the highest GPA reported from the applicant’s high school for admission purposes. For scholarship purposes, all GPAs will be considered based on a 4.0 scale where the highest possible GPA is a 4.0. If an applicant’s GPA is based on a different scale (*please see below) the Loyola Admissions Office will calculate the applicant’s GPA on a 4.0 scale in order to consider the student for merit-based academic scholarships.

BELMONT UNIVERSITY

Contact: Belmont University | 1900 Belmont Boulevard | Nashville, TN 37212
Website: www.belmont.edu

Belmont University is a student-centered Christian community providing an academically challenging education that empowers men and women of diverse backgrounds.

All students are automatically considered for any and all merit-based scholarships solely by applying to Belmont. Generally, merit-based scholarships range from $3,000 to $10,000. These awards are awarded on a rolling basis and will solely look at the student's best composite test score (either ACT or SAT) in combination with GPA.

MERIT SCHOLARSHIP AID:
• The application for admission to the university also serves as the application for merit scholarship.
• General Freshman Academic Merit Scholarships are awarded on a rolling basis following the offer of admission.

• December 1 is the priority application deadline for consideration for Belmont’s most competitive named and departmental scholarships. All components of the application for admission must be received by this date for the applicant to be deemed eligible for consideration.

• Notification of named and departmental scholarship recipients will be sent by early March.

• In most cases, students may receive only one merit award. For exceptions, see the list of individual scholarships below.

• Traditionally, about 60% of those students admitted as freshmen will receive a merit scholarship.

General Academic Merit Scholarships: General Academic Merit Scholarships range from $3,000 to $10,000 annually. Admitted freshmen with academic credentials that meet or exceed the University’s freshman class profile are considered competitive candidates for these awards. The freshman class entering fall 2018 had an average ACT composite score of 27 or SAT score of 1213, with a cumulative high school grade point average of 3.7 on a four-point scale.

Named Scholarships: Candidates for the University’s highest academic merit scholarships, such as the Presidential Scholar or Faculty Scholar awards, must have completed their application file to Belmont by December 1. In addition, those selected for consideration in the named scholarship process will have already qualified for the highest level of general academic merit scholarship (currently $10,000). These named awards recognize approximately the top two percent of all freshman applicants (over 8,100 for fall 2018), with an average cumulative high school grade point average of 4.33 (on a 4.0 scale) and an ACT composite score of 34 or SAT score of 1500. Consideration is also given to class rank (if provided) as well as individual accomplishment and demonstrated leadership as evidenced by the resume of activities. A named scholarship generally replaces a general academic merit scholarship previously awarded.

Presidential Scholarship: The Presidential Scholarship is Belmont’s most competitive scholarship, awarded to approximately five incoming freshmen. The scholarship provides full tuition, room, board, books, and fees for four academic years (eight semesters) of continuous study. Traditionally, twelve finalists are invited to personally interview on campus for this award. Selection criteria include a review of academic and leadership accomplishments. Demonstrated financial need may be considered, therefore submission of the annual Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is highly encouraged and required for those selected for the scholarship. Candidates for the Presidential Scholarship will have a minimum composite score of 30 on the ACT or SAT score of 1390.

William Randolph Hearst Endowed Scholarship: One scholarship covering full tuition, room, board, books, and fees for a freshman student from a diverse background. Traditionally, five finalists are invited to personally interview for this award.

Faculty Scholar: Awarded to approximately 150-175 freshmen with outstanding academic, extra-curricular and leadership records. Worth $15,000 per year.

National Merit Finalists: Students named as a National Merit Finalist are automatically named a Belmont Faculty Scholar, with a Belmont merit-based scholarship totaling no less than $15,000.
Leadership Scholarship: Thirty $3,000 awards to incoming freshmen who demonstrate outstanding leadership abilities as evidenced through the resume of activities and did not qualify for an academic scholarship.

Turner Scholarship: $7,500 awards for freshmen students from rural high schools with outstanding academic records and demonstrated need.

Athletic scholarships: Performance-based scholarships based upon athletic ability and level of need of position. Contact the coach of the sport for more information.
